Port an t-Sluichd
(The harbour's hollow)

1

A clearing of stones to allow a boat to be pulled up from the bay. The rod is 2m in length. 6955/8125. (29/4/2001).

2 See the photo on the next page. To the left is the largest house in the village. 10 x 3.9m. 29^{0}internally The door and windows face south-east. The north window is large - 1.1m wide internally and 0.88m externally. There is no internal wall division. 6960/8130.

3. Behind 2 there is a byre 5.2 x 2.55m internally, with a doorway facing north-east and no windows.

4 and 5. 4 is in the middle of the photo. It is an enclosure 3.9 x 2.5m externally. 315^0. Stone foundations only. No signs of a doorway. 5 is in the right of the photo. Building foundations. 4 x 2m internally. 58^0. There is no sign of a doorway.

6 An enclosure. Stone foundations are ~3 x 2m.

7 Three piles of displaced stones.

8 An enclosure 3.1 x 1.4m. 264^0.

9

A house. 8.65 x 3.7m internally. 1,7m high. Two windows and a doorway face north-west. The north-east wall has collapsed. There is a neat drain on the edge of a terrace in front of the north-west wall of the house.

9,10,11
10
in the middle, is a house 7.4 x 3.6m internally. 54^0. Height 1.55m. There is one window on the south-east wall and it has a lintel.. 6967/8140. A pathway runs from the house towards the burn.
There is beside it an enclosure 7.85 x 3.4m internally, 0.8m high. The interior was very stony.
11
A byre 4.15 x 2.4m internally. 1.4m high. There are no windows and the doorway faces north-west.

12 An enclosure 2.2 x 1.5m internally. 148^0.

13 A building 4.6 x 2.45m internally. There is one window with a lintel on the north-west wall and a wide doorway on the north-east wall - 1.08m wide. 6970/8138.
An enclosure of two built walls between the above house and a rock face.

14 A building 4.7 x 2.7m. Height 1.1m. 217^0. There is a doorway in the north-west wall and there are no windows. The floor way has possibly been paved with stones. 69608/8122.

15 A deep and high cave. A narrow fissure runs further back. There is a protective wall at the entrance. The pole is 2m in length. 6960/8122.

